EVERETT LEEDS

Herbaceous Clematis

For our April gathering, we are delighted to welcome Everett Leeds who began his longstanding fascination with clematis in the 1970s. Despite describing himself as 'just an amateur', he was a founder member of both the International Clematis Society and the British Clematis Society, has served several terms on the committees of both, and has co-authored two books on the genus.

Everett will be talking to us about herbaceous clematis: scented varieties and those suitable for the front, middle and rear of the border.

Entrance: Members: Free; Non-Members: £2.

Refreshments will be available and a raffle will be held.
